

LETTER TO YOUR TEACHER

Hi Ms.Darwish,

Learning from my mistakes is one of my major academic strength, one academic weakness I have and need to work more on is lack of focusing during class which sometimes gets me in trouble (like that one time you were about to call home). This year I am mostly excited about in ELA class is learning new vocab words and what I am kind of nervous about is like if we have a presentation during class because it makes me feel nervous standing in front of the whole class. I learn, focus and understand more when we do more fun activities during class time . I actually don't think I have a greatest strength in ELA but we could say that my greatest weakness is writing and expressing my self as I really need help with these 2 skills. In 7th grade,at the end of the school year we were reading Legend by Marie Lu, which I really liked, so during the summer I downloaded a PDF on my ipad that included the rest of the legend series so that's what I basically read during the summer. I live with my grandparents from my mom's side, my mom and my little sister since we came here last year before 7th grade started, so we don't have house of our own yet. I have watched alot of movies that are based on true stories or like has a really nice lesson that they teach, I actually recommend these 3 movies that stood out to me so maybe you could watch them with your family. The first one is "THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS", second "JOHN Q" and finally "THE BOY WHO HARNESSSED THE WIND". After school I usually have 2-3 online coding classes each week which is actually fun creating apps and websites of my own (some things I made: games,ISS TRACKER APP,E-LIBRARY etc...) My most important core value is honesty because I am always honest about what to say to others which is also kind of rude whe nyour really that honest with someone.The thing that mostly matters in my life is living happily with my family in a positive surrounding.

NICE TO MEET YOU, Bye.
